INTERIOR OF FORT MARION. Fort Marion, originally built in 1565, was destroyed in 1586 by Sir Francis Drake, and the present fort was finished in 1756. Many celebrated captives were imprisoned here; the closed door on the right-hand side is the one that leads to the dungeon where, in 1836, the skeletons and the two large iron cages were found by a U. S. Military Engineer.

THE WATER WATER

THE ADDRESS TO BE WRITTEN ON THIS SIDE.

ST. FRANCIS STREET is a centre of much interest to tourists as it contains what is claimed to be the oldest house in the United States. The building was begun by French Huguenets about 1562, completed by the Spanish, and occupied by the Monks of St. Francis in 1565 · 80. In 1590 it was acquired by a Spanish government official, and remained in the possession of his descendants until 1882. It is now private property, open to the public as a historcial museum.

POST CARD.

THE ADDRESS TO BE WRITTEN ON THIS SIDE.

CHARLOTTE STREET is one of the chief thoroughfares of the city, and is especially interesting because of the number of old dwellings it contains. The early Spanish residences were built of coquina, and many of them were provided with balconies projecting from the second stories; the narrowness of the streets rendered the latter feature a great aid to neighborly sociability.

THE EDISON PHONOGRAPH

The first sound reproducing device was an Edison Phonograph, invented by Thomas A. Edison in 1877, at Men'o Park, N. J., where he then had his laboratory. In 1887 Mr. Edison took up his residence and his laboratory work at Orange, N. J., and here, under his personal direction, the Phonograph has been developed into the wonderful musical instrument it is, known and enjoyed in the homes of every nation.

Birthdays Come

And the Birthdays go;—
The question is,
Where do they find us?
Have we learned to laugh
At the ills of life
And leave dull care

Behind us?

Have we learned to make

Each passing day

Yield all the good that's in it?

If not—

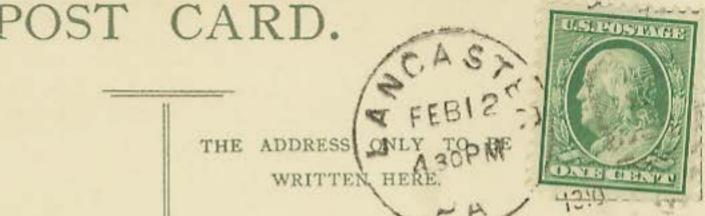

It's time we should turn around,

And begin right away
